Servicepoint for Intercultural Competence

Establishing a welcoming culture for international students. The Servicepoint for Intercultural Competence (Servicestelle Interkulturelle Kompetenz – SIK) shows how this works in practice with a wide-reaching information, advice and further education programme.

[9] Making it easier for international students to find their way through their studies, complete them successfully and develop strong ties with their host country helps Germany become more attractive as a study location.

In addition to on-campus integration, the SIK...

- lobbies for the interests of international students in the political arena
- trains Studentenwerke employees and tutors who advise and supervise international students on intercultural issues
- supports Studentenwerke in the further development and quality development of their service and advice offer for international students
- offers a forum in which the situation of international students in Germany is discussed at symposia, tutor meetings and expert workshops with Studentenwerke and International Offices
- communicates via brochures on international topics and provides information on initiatives and projects relating to the integration of international students
